Pre-Show

As a separate “prelude” to the 4D film, the audience experiences a real, acoustic, musical performance in the first hall – “performed” by a group of animated characters on an acoustic grand piano. We have a large LED wall with a self playing Yamaha Disklavier Grand Piano mounted on the wall. One of the characters, later on two, are playing piano together, and yet another one wants to join. They won’t let him take part, and he starts disrupting the whole seance with interruptions on all sorts of instruments and from different pieces of music (quotes from Thomas the Tank Engine, Super Mario etc. It starts out as one at first beautiful, then later on slap stick introduction to the park experience.
